Eligibility and Selection of Residents: Policy and Procedures

approved by REC 8/9/11

Background
The University of Wisconsin Psychiatry Residency is committed to recruiting and training physicians of the highest caliber. The process of evaluating and selecting candidates for the residency is meant to be equitable and accountable to the applicants as well as to the faculty and current residents. The program selects from among eligible applicants on the basis of their preparedness, ability, aptitude, academic credential, communication skills, and personal qualities such as motivation and integrity.

The program does not discriminate with regard to sex, race, age, religion, color, national origin, disability, or any other applicable legally protected status.

All participants in this process adhere to the rules and ethical guidelines set forth by the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP).

Applicants for PGY1 Positions
The Psychiatry Residency accepts applications only through the Electronic Residency Application Service (ERAS). The following eligibility criteria apply:

- Each applicant must have completed medical school or must be on track to complete medical school by June 15 of the year of entry into the residency. Graduates of medical schools not accredited by the LCME or the AOA must have ECFMG certification. (No application will be reviewed prior to ECFMG certification.)
- Each applicant must be a U.S. citizen, permanent resident (with Green Card) or must eligible for a J1 visa. UWHC does not accept H1B visas.
- U.S. clinical experience as a physician or physician-in-training is required. This includes at least three months of clinical experience at a U.S. hospital or outpatient clinic (and at least one month in Psychiatry). This clinical experience must have happened within the last three years prior to the application being submitted. Research does not count towards this requirement.
- Each applicant must submit:
  - a Medical Student Performance Evaluation (also known as a Dean’s Letter);
  - at least two additional letters of recommendation (at least one of these must be from a Psychiatrist who supervised or evaluated the applicant during a U.S. clinical experience in Psychiatry, and must describe the clinical role of the applicant in this experience);
  - a Personal Statement;
  - USMLE or COMLEX scores (at least Step 1).
- Applicants must have sufficient command of English to permit accurate and unimpeded communication. During interviewing, applicants may be specifically assessed in this regard.
- All applicants must be in the NRMP match. Candidates with prior Match commitments will be rejected.

Based on a careful review of each application by the Program Coordinator (PC) and Program Director (PD) or Associate Program Director (APD), an applicant is either invited for an interview, placed on hold pending further information or declined an interview. Candidates with significant accomplishments in research may be invited to interview for the Research Track.

Transfer Applicants
Before accepting a resident who is transferring from another ACGME-accredited residency program, the PD must obtain written or electronic verification of previous educational experiences and a summative competency-based performance evaluation of the transferring resident. Verification must include evaluation of professional integrity of any resident transferring from one program to another and must include a summary of the clinical experiences (e.g., clinical logs) of that resident in the original program.

Each applicant must be a U.S. citizen, permanent resident (with Green Card) or must be eligible for a J1 visa. UWHC does not accept H1B visas.

Interviews of Candidates

Qualified applicants are invited for a two-day visit to the Psychiatry Residency. Applicants who are invited for an interview will be informed, in writing or by electronic means (residency's recruitment website), of the terms, conditions, and benefits of their appointment, including financial support; vacations; parental, sick, and other leaves of absence; professional liability, hospitalization, health, disability and other insurance provided for the residents and their families; and the conditions under which UWHC provides call rooms, meals, laundry services, or their equivalents.

On the first evening of the visit, candidates meet residents, faculty (including the Department Chair or designee) and each other in an informal event. During the second day, candidates are carefully matched with faculty and residents for a set of interviews. Candidates also tour various clinical sites. The PD and APD meet each candidate and respond to questions from candidates after the visit.

Review of Candidates

The Residency Selection Committee (RSC) meets approximately weekly during the recruitment season to review each candidate. The RSC consists of the PD, the APD, the 2-3 Chief Residents and the PC. One or two additional residents are also invited to join the committee. The Department Chair and Vice Chair for Education (if different from the PD) serve as ad hoc members of the RSC. The RSC is directly accountable to the Residency Education Committee (REC).

The RSC carefully vets each candidate and reviews: her or his academic record in medical school and beforehand; extracurricular activities, including involvement in the community; participation in research; personal statement; letters of reference; and formal evaluations by the faculty and residents who interviewed the candidate.

The RSC assigns a preliminary quartile rank to each candidate, roughly corresponding to the following actions: (1) actively pursue this candidate and rank the candidate at top of the NRMP list, (2) rank this candidate, (3) accept this candidate only if more qualified candidates are not available, and (4) do not rank this candidate. The PD, APD and PC are responsive to and respectful of all candidates irrespective of ranking.

At the final RSC meetings, the quartile rank list is converted into a more detailed rank-order list for submission by the PD to the NRMP. Candidates should have passed USMLE or COMLEX Steps 1, 2 CK and 2 CS prior to starting the residency; not having passed by the time the NRMP Rank Order List is due may be grounds for not ranking a candidate.

The residency accepts residents into PGY1 and PGY2 positions via the NRMP Match.

Review of Policy and Procedures

The entire residency selection process is reviewed annually by the REC to ensure its quality and integrity. Candidates are asked to evaluate their experience of the interview process using an anonymous feedback form; the REC reviews these results as well. As indicated, the REC will revise the policy and procedures.
These guidelines are consistent with the UWHC Policy on Residency Selection and Appointment.
